EVACUATION ORDER INFORMATION

Release Date March 10, 2023 10:30AM

At this point the threat to our waterways flooding has decreased, allowing us to lift evacuations in certain areas. Due to flooding in parts of South County near College and Holohan, some areas will remain in evacuation order at this time. An evacuation warning has been issued along parts of the Pajaro River due to the potential for flooding in that area. The Sheriff's Office appreciates the community's cooperation during these difficult times as we take steps to keep our community safe. The Santa Cruz County Sheriff's Office has lifted evacuation orders for the following zones:

Orders being lifted:
FEL-E008, FEL-E012

CRZ-E081

CTL-E014-B, E015-B, E018-A, E019-B

Evacuation Warnings going into effect:
PAJ E029, E030, E031, E032

CRZ – E071

Evacuation Orders staying in effect:
PAJ-E015-B, E024-B, E027-B, E026, E028

We will continue to monitor the weather through the weekend and make changes when necessary.
