Findings

F13. Santa Cruz County law enforcement response to homeless, addiction, and mental health issues has the potential to criminalize social, medical, and psychological conditions. This requires law enforcement to perform the role of social worker; a role for which they lack the resources and mental health training.

AGREE

PARTIALLY DISAGREE – explain the disputed portion

DISAGREE – explain why

Response explanation (required for a response other than Agree):

Recommendations

R18. Santa Cruz County should create a 24-hour mobile crisis response unit that includes medical staff and an experienced crisis worker to respond to emergency 911 calls and non-emergency police calls that do not involve legal issues or threats of violence. The Santa Cruz County Board of Supervisors should work with the County's law enforcement agencies to identify funds in their budgets that could be allocated to this program. The Grand Jury recommends the County consider using CAHOOTS (Crisis Assistance Helping Out On The Streets) in Eugene, Oregon as a model. (F13)

- HAS BEEN IMPLEMENTED – summarize what has been done
- HAS NOT BEEN IMPLEMENTED BUT WILL BE IMPLEMENTED IN THE FUTURE – summarize what will be done and the timeframe
- REQUIRES FURTHER ANALYSIS – explain scope and timeframe (not to exceed six months)
- WILL NOT BE IMPLEMENTED – explain why

Response explanation, summary, and timeframe:

The Scotts Valley Police Department agrees that Santa Cruz County should consider creating a 24-hour mobile crisis response unit that includes medical staff and an experienced crisis worker to respond to emergency 911 calls and non-emergency police calls that do not involve legal issues and violence, which require specific training and expertise not possessed by law enforcement.

The 24-hour mobile crisis response unit should also be available when requested by law enforcement, to respond and assist at 911 calls and non-emergency police calls involving legal issues and the threat of violence once law enforcement on scene have mitigated the legal issues and threat of violence. The City of Scotts Valley looks forward to working with the Santa Cruz County Board of Supervisors to identify county-wide funding in support of this program.
